

Why Kreativ Dental Clinic, Budapest are Leaders in Dental Care

It's no secret that dental costs are very expensive in Ireland. For this reason, more people are choosing to go abroad for their dental care and are receiving high quality treatments with fantastic results. So why not take advantage of the superb prices and treatment available at Kreativ Dental Clinic, located just a short plane ride away?

One man who did is 1997 World Snooker Champion Ken Doherty and he couldn't be happier with the result.

"When you hear about going abroad to get your teeth done you are always a bit concerned," says Doherty, "but as soon as I walked into the clinic my mind was put at ease."

Doherty got full zirconium porcelain crowns fitted and didn't experience any after pain. "The great thing was that I was taken back in the day after fitting to check my bite. They wanted to make sure that when you walked out that door that everything was perfect.

"The work was up to 60 per cent cheaper than what I was quoted in Dublin. If you had to get a lot of work done you would make substantial savings and that is a big plus." It's also possible to claim tax back, similar to visiting an Irish dentist.

And Ken Doherty is not the only one seeking treatment in the Budapest-based clinic. Kreativ Dental Clinic has been treating Irish patients for the past 17 years.

According to Mary Flanagan, the clinic's Irish representative the appeal is simple.

"Budapest is the centre of excellence for dentistry in Europe. All of our dentists are experts in their own respective fields of dentistry, including oral surgeons, a maxilla facial surgeon, endodontist and periodontist. Having a whole team of experts, as opposed to just one dentist, assessing the needs of your teeth makes a really big difference. Hence, Kreativ Dental Clinic provides all patients with an extensive written guarantee prior to work commencing."

And if anyone knows how much of a difference the team at the Budapest clinic can make to your teeth, it's Mary. At 25, she began having problems with her teeth. This was due to an incorrect bite (occlusion) which was later diagnosed and rectified by Kreativ Dental Clinic.

Over the space of 15 years she had many root canal treatments, crowns fitted which later fell out, followed by eight teeth extracted due to failure of root canals, and needless to say she still didn't have the smile she had dreamed of.

"It really affected my confidence," she says. "I used to speak to people with my hand covering my mouth. I was really embarrassed by my teeth, or lack thereof. It also affected my ability to eat proper food. If I was at a restaurant I would have to order soft food. It wasn't very enjoyable or healthy."

At 35 Mary was told by one Irish dentist that her only option was dentures. Another told her he could do the work but it would cost up to €60,000. It was at this point that a friend's uncle, who happened to be a retired Irish dentist, recommended she visit the experts at Kreativ Dental in Budapest.

"I was petrified," continues Mary. "I had had so many problems with dentists over the years that I didn't know what to expect or what I would find once I reached Budapest."

What she found was a five star purpose-built ultramodern clinic comprising of six surgeries, a laboratory, digital X-ray machines, Cat Scan machine, its own on-site laboratory and even a rooftop café. The clinic employs a range of dental specialists and offers a suite of treatments including dental implants, porcelain crowns and bridges, dentures, periodontal surgery, root canal treatment, gnathological treatment and tooth whitening.

"I was put at ease straight away," says Mary. "I had a consultation, and an OPG X-ray which was viewed by the team of dental specialists and I was then advised as to what options were available to me."

Mary ended up having eight implants and 26 porcelain crowns fitted at the much lower price-tag of €12,000 plus €400 for her flights. "It was absolutely brilliant. My new smile finally gave me my confidence back and I can eat food I couldn't eat before. That's why I'm passionate about the clinic."

Having gone through the experience, Mary understands how daunting it can be and offers a unique service to Irish patients who may be apprehensive.

"I travel with people to Budapest if they're nervous or would like to be part of our accompanied trips. Kreativ Dental Clinic is unique in providing this free service in Ireland. I travel on the plane with people, stay in the same hotel and accompany them to the clinic. For some people, this can be very reassuring.

"It's such a rewarding experience. People may be nervous going over, however, afterwards they have a whole new level of confidence. Word is spreading about the superb treatment offered by Kreativ Dental and many of the clinic's clients have heard about the clinic from previous patients who have been there."
